Group Tours Ingram

Industries Facilities

Ingram Industries, Inc. on

Highway 603 in Hancock County

was host on Thursday to a motorcade group who saw an exhibition of explosives, a display of products manufactured

within the plant, and were given a conducted tour of the facil-

ties. The motorcade, sponsored by the Hancock County

Chamber of Commerce, was composed of members of the Board of Supervisors, City Officials, and

Chamber of Commerce members who were greeted by David

Sampsell, staff assistant, Peter

DeMarsh, Executive Vice President, Jack Thorman, works

manager, and Robert Barden

and W. J. Smith, Government representatives.

The sprawling Ingram Industries plant has 25,000 square feet under roof, employs 107 workers who are trained on location and come from a labor pool around Bay St. Louis and as far inland as Picayune, and manufacture in addition to explosives a sizeable array of civilian products. The 1970

payroll will run $400,000.

Explosives are not destructive -- they are constructive

, explained Thorman, who gave an example cartridge

cutter, air craft signal devices, and the use of high explosives in making trenches for laying pipe lines. In Australia,

Thorman said, explosives were used effectively in putting down

a trench under difficult ongoing conditions.

Supervisor Dolph Kollar

was thanked by the Ingram Industries for information which he gave about Hancock County that influenced the placing of the plant at its present location.

Government regulations require that buildings manufacturing explosives be spaced a considerable distance apart. An unpopulated area is also a requisite, De Marsh said. "Dolph

Kollar was instrumental in our selecting Hancock County as the site of these industries and we are very happily situated. We couldn't have picked a better

location to work in."

Thorman commented favorably about the people making up the labor pool and explained

, "All of these people are skilled in their jobs. We hire local people and these people are trained on location. Most of them have never had any previous experience in this line of work and this plant operates at a high production level." The majority of the workers are women who were said to be dangerous, especially in working with very small objects. One dainty lady intent on soldering said, "Anybody could do this -- this is, if they wanted to."

Workers at Ingram Industries are pretty much like workers the world over. There are the young attractive just-out-of-school girls with shining

hair, carefully made up faces, and neat attire. There are the older ones settling down comfortably to sensible meals and

Senior Choir Socks New Members

The Senior Choir of Our Lady of the Gulf Church is now recruiting new members for its organization. This group was organized seven years ago under the direction of Mrs. John McKenna and has performed secular programs for social activities as well as appropriate music for the liturgical functions of the church. It is one of the largest church choirs on the coast and considered outstanding in performance.

Missing from the picture are Roseanne Thomas, Helen Trudell, Mary McCarthy, Gloria Rosato, Mille Rutledge, Marie and Conrad Mauffray.

NOTICE WAVELAND VOTERS

B-E-W-A-R-E !!! of last minute promises from the present mayor. What ever could be promised to be done, should have, at least, already been started.

Until now I have not been able to comment on the platform of my incumbent opponent for the simple reason that as of this writing I have not heard nor have I read any single thing that he proposes to do during the next four years in office, if elected.

Just as the voter registration has changed so have the methods of an election campaign been changed. Now a vote should be based N-O-T on whether he is a relative or likes my incumbent opponent, or whether a relative of a friend likes MEL VILLEIRE. The voting should be based upon one thing: What has MEL VILLEIRE proposed to do; likewise, what has the incumbent mayor proposed to do? That and that alone, is the issue ..... and N-O-T personalities. Such personality politics were fine 20 to 30 years ago when Waveland had fewer than 500 voters and a candidate could make a personal call on almost every voter. That is now impossible with a voter registration in excess of 1,200.

I have not endorsed any alderman because I am running as a truly I-N-D-E-P-E-N-D-E-N-T candidate and I am prepared to work with any alderman you decide to elect in the four wards of our town. Such a system means that you will truly have an independent governing body representative not of any one group but of all voters of Waveland.

Remember my POINT No. 3 ..... Evaluate Federal and State funds. As I recall Waveland received outside funds that were supposed to be used for the restoration of the town after Hurricane "Camille". Among the uses was the ditch drainage correction. But, low and behold, our ditches are as they were before, during, and after the Hurricane. Why haven't these corrections been made? I could go on listing things that have to be done for the improvement of our town, but I would be telling you, the voters, something that you are already aware of. But, to do these things properly I need your help. Please review my platform that I have brought to you in the past three weeks.

Let me take this opportunity to express my heartfelt gratitude for the warm reception I have been receiving from the public. To the people that I have not been able to personally contact, let me, at this time, take just a few words to express my sincerity in my plea for your support and help in the coming election. The fact that Waveland has grown so much in the past few years makes it virtually impossible to personally contact each individual family.

I NEED YOUR HELP IN BRING ABOUT THE MUCH NEEDED CHANGES IN WAVELAND. WAVELAND IS A GREAT AND PROUD LITTLE TOWN. HELP ME KEEP IT THIS WAY.

YOU CAN HELP ME BY VOTING ---

Activity Of Bay High Graduates

A follow up survey conducted by the guidance department of Bay Senior High School reveals that eighty eight of the 1970 graduates are now enrolled in institutions of higher learning. This represents 64 per cent of the graduating class which numbered one hundred thirty seven students. Of these graduates, thirty four are enrolled in senior college, fifty one are enrolled in junior college and three are enrolled in business or technical schools. All students at Bay Senior High are encouraged to continue their education beyond high school regardless of the field of endeavor they intend to pursue. Increased training in the business, vocational, and technical fields is now available for any interested student at the various junior colleges and business schools. Those seniors seeking degrees in the liberal arts or in the professions may also begin at the junior college level, or they may enroll directly in the senior college of their choice.

poronnel at Bay Senior High this year consists of Mr. Frank Ladner, director, Mr. Rogers James and Mr. Wilmer Soy-enrolled in distributive education and trades and vocational education. There are nine distributive systems involved in educational orientation which is being taught for the first time at Bay Senior High.

OUR OPINION*UNITED EFFORT BRINGS RESULTS

Civic pride is returning to Bay St. Louis. Many people merit a few words of gratitude for contributions they have made toward making our town a better place in which to live. organized groups of young churchmen, of scouts, of students and of civic groups have picked up litter by the hundreds of pounds. It is not now uncommon to see a person in walking stomp and pick up a bag or can and toss it into the nearest waste-container. Our cemeteries look better kept as do our public properties.

This miracle has come about as an almost united effort. The peoples of Bay St. Louis would like to live in surroundings of which they can be proud. They have the assured cooperation of both county and city police forces. They have unselfish citizens working toward a beautification program. They have awareness. A few uncouth or thoughtless people still hurl beer cans and bottles into ditches and litter streets and sidewalks.

If our town is to stay clean these few must be taught neatness, cleanliness, tidiness and sanitation. Seldom is a hard-learned lesson forgotten. This paper urges private citizens to take the license numbers of offenders and report incidences of littering to proper officials.

A Conservative View

by James J. Kilpatrick

Last week's massive report from the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights is both profoundly depressing and sadly revealing. The report speaks, if anyone is listening, of failings, imperfections and sorrows as old as Hammurabi. In the Court of Last Judgment, where man's weaknesses must go on trial, the document may be admitted in evidence--Exhibit A for the prosecution.

Contrary to first impressions--they seem a little edgy at the White House these days--the report's not a political indictment. If the commission's findings reflect poorly upon the Nixon administration, they reflect with equal severity upon all the administrations that have gone before.

The report plods on for more than a thousand pages, fettered by 2,300 footnotes, and this is among the melancholy aspects: The commission's cry is bound to be muffled by the sheer dead weight of this tome. No one, virtually no one, will wade through it. Each of the chapters has a summary, but the summaries do not adequately convey the hopes and disappointments and frustrations the methodical pages describe.

This is the main point: Civil rights laws, in themselves, do not a millionaire make. There is a law, for example, which says to Federal contractors: If you discriminate against Negroes, your contract will be canceled and you will be prohibited from receiving contracts in the future. But the law accomplishes nothing if no contracts are canceled and no bidders are awarded.

Why has the law as to contractors not been enforced? The commission's answer, laying the blame on an inert bureaucracy, applies across the whole spectrum of the civil rights enforcement efforts. All bureaucracies operate in a kind of ground fog, but some fog are thicker than others. In that part of the swamp labeled "civil rights," responsibility can be shown only dimly. Every agency has a man who is literally in charge of civil rights, but often he is assigned to personnel; and as Frank Montovano has remarked, this is a critical, more pressing action. He has to get parking spaces allocated.

But the fruit is not alone with the inertia of bureaucracy or with the diffusion of authority in government. Agencies must operate under laws passed by Congress, and the laws admit an infinity of delays, negotiations, and appeals. These are not unreasonable laws. The contractors (for whom) cannot put aside racial discrimination by the wave of a wand. They have to live with their unions, and with the labor supply, and with the industrial world as it is. At a given moment in time and space, there are 26 senior black pipefitters to be found? They do not exist.

So it goes throughout the bleak landscape the commission surveys. On the surfaces, at least, the facts and figures are damning. The Federal government, which has a great responsibility in the field of civil rights, is falling down on the job.

And yet, and yet... One wonders, putting the bulky volume aside, whether the facts and figures necessarily prove what they appear to prove. The commission complains, for example, of a bus terminal in Greenville, Miss. White passengers still are waiting in one room, black passengers in another. No law compels this separation; no signs demand it; no minion of the bus company enforces it. We may speculate that the causes of voluntary separation lie deep in the fragile eggshell soul of man. Do not break the membranes.

It is the same at a giant publishing project in Chicago. The law demands integration, public policy and the Christian ethic urge it; but all 20,000 units stay black. You cannot, in a tolerably free society, compel whites to live there, is the bureaucracy's failure? Or man's?

Fathers fail like autumn leaves. It falls upon the Civil Rights Commission to inquire after its discriminatory instance upon form of the chance of substance. At one point, the commission appears to be demanding a quota system

itter-Lagasse ed At St. Clare's

Miss JoAnn Witter, daughter of Mrs. Michael N. Witter of Waveland and the late Witter became the bride of Mr. A. Lagasse III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lagasse Sr. of Waveland at a Nuptial Mass p.m., October 17, in St. Louis Catholic Church, Waveland.

Rev. Walter Maloney, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decked with arrangements of pink and white mums.

Miss Susan Ladner, organist, played the pre-nuptial recessional march and hymn of appropriate color during the Mass.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother Michael Witter Jr.

She wore a floor length gold-colored silk charmeuse dress with a head piece fashioned of a matching silk rose and circular veil. She carried a cascade of gold and yellow mums.

Mr. Lagasse served his son as best man and John McCall and George Anderson Jr. were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in St. Clare's Parish Hall where Mrs. Witter received their guests wearing aqua silk dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The mother of the groom chose a double full length dress, matching accessories and a pink rose corsage.

The bride's table was covered with an off-white cloth over yellow with was bordered with a four-tiered edge trimmed with yellow satin sugar roses. The top tier held a gold Communion cross. Silver candleabra holding white tapers were on either side.

After the bride and groom cut the first slice of cake it was cut and served by her aunt, Miss Nancy Murphy, assisted by a cousin Miss Claudia Ladner.

Mrs. George Anderson Jr., and Mrs. Pete Schulte presided at the punch table.

For her wedding trip to Tennessee the bride wore a beige and brown dress with beige accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The couple will make their home at Bay Royale Apartments, Bay St. Louis.

Certificates Presented

Spanish Trail District meeting was held last Wednesday at Long Beach Garden Center with Mrs. V. J. Lucas, District Director, presiding. Mrs. George D. Pillow, president, Garden Clubs of Mississippi, Inc., addressed the group. Mrs. Louis F. Crawford, president Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs, also attended.

Bay-Waveland Garden Club was presented a certificate of merit and placed on the honor roll of the Federated Garden Clubs of Mississippi, which was accepted by the club's president Mrs. George L. Seuzenau Jr.

A certificate of merit was presented to Mrs. Richard J. Sallinger, chairman Bay St. Louis High School Gardeners, for her outstanding work with the young gardeners.

Attending from the local club were Mesdames Seuzenau, Sallinger, Clarence A. Evans, R. F. Gray, Dan M. Russell, Jr., David Peranich and O. Duke, and Miss Barbara Gray.

Mrs. Edward Thomson drove the group to Long Beach.

Attends District Conference

Mrs. Patricia Ladner, president American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 130, and members attended the fall District conference in Biloxi Saturday. Mrs. Lole Sumrall, Gulfport, presided. The meeting was attended by state and district officers.

Unit 130 was praised for reaching and going over their membership quota and for having a family of four generations on both sides as members, Mrs. Ed. P. Orte, Mrs. Russell Elliott, Mrs. Patricia Ladner and Amy Lynn Ladner and Mrs. L. S. Elliott, Russell Elliott, Mrs. Ladner and daughter Amy Lynn.

Hodges-Cardin Wed In Seattle

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Kiln VFW Post #3035 will sponsor a dance on Saturday October 31st from 6 p.m. till 11 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the Mavericks. The dance will be held in the Annunciation School gym. Admission will be $1.50 per person. The public is invited.

Annunciation boys football team journeyed to Mobile last Saturday to play St. Mary's School of Mobile. St. Marys defeated our boys 24 to 0. Tracey accompanying the boys and the cheerleaders were Wesley Hahn, coach, Leland Hoda, L. J. Curran, Mr. and Mrs. Douglass Favre, Mrs. Cleveland Wyatt, Mrs. Jerry Mitchell, Nal Cameron, J. W. Olsen, Mrs. James Broadhead, Mrs. Pat Whalen, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Neocle, and Sisters Joan Larimore and John Christopher. Father Maurice Flood met us at the field. St. Marys served lunch to all the players, cheerleaders and guests following the game.

Annunciation will play host to Pineville on Thursday afternoon.

There will be no school on Friday October 30th, due to a teacher's meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Annunciation PTA was held last Wednesday night in the school cafeteria. Approximately fifty parents were present. Mr. Delcuze, an organizer for the schools for retarded children in Harrison and Hancock Counties, was guest speaker. He spoke on the needs for these special children. Mrs. Lee, who is with the Office of Economic Opportunity, also spoke. She told of ways in which money can be obtained for these programs. Also there were guests present from Bay St. Louis who are interested and working with retarded children. A special meeting will be called to finalize plans for the annual Turkey Bowl to be held on November 22nd.

Misses Angie and Carol, Annunciation School teachers, attended a Social Studies Workshop last Friday at St. John's School in Gulfport.

The Hancock County Home-makers Club of Kiln met last week in the home of Mrs. Robert Lyons. Miss Dixie Parker, Assistant Home Economist of Hancock County, explained what a homemaker's Club is, what they do, and also said that almost any request for information in any line of homemaking is available for the asking. About ten people attended the meeting, cake and coffee were served. The next meeting will be held on November 17th, at the home of Mrs. Jerry Miller.

Reverend James Lee of the Gulfport Municipal Airport celebrated his 10th birthday with his wife and two sons.

Mrs. Lucelia Alsobrook of Picayune was a guest in Neacise Crossing this week in Mrs. Alsobrook's aunts' home.

Mrs. Eula Ladner.

Fellow voters of our county school district, for those of you that I fail to see I want you to know that I am sorry, because I am sure if I talked to each of you personally that you would understand why I am seeking the most important elective office in the county. I have five children that finished school at Hancock North Central and five more to go.

I am a veteran of World War II and was wounded while serving my country. I am now employed by the U.S. Naval Base in Gulfport. I am the past president of Hancock North Central PTA, past vice-president and secretary I am a fulltime supporter of all activities concerning our educational system. I am 48 years old, married to the former Mazie Spiers of Neacise Crossing.

Voters when you go to the polls on Nov. 3rd think of the future of your children and vote for Clifton J. Ladner for school board of district No. 3 and in doing so you will help me to help our children get the kind of education in our school system that we can all be proud of. Thank each and everyone of you in advance and may God bless all of you.

Something For Everyone at Hancock County Fair

Come to the Fair.
It's comfortable... walking and sitting your purse with all change. The Mid-Way is a quarter-of-a-mile long, so it's only in size to the State Fair in Jackson. The Carnival is of the finest. There's fun for everyone. You find an opportunity to know your county better.

It all begins with a Saturday, Nov. 31, Parade. (And the kids play on). Everyone

PRESENTS PLANS

FOR COURT HOUSE
In presenting plans for repairs to be made to the Hancock County Court House, Fred Wagner who is the architect and engineer to draw up specifications, met on Monday with members of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and received unanimous approval on a proposal to submit separate specifications and estimated costs on work to be done on the exterior and interior of the structure.

Wagner recommended exterior work should be done first as it would be a protective measure and would include an asbestos shingle roof and new brick or stucco, should be water-proofed, Wagner said. He added that these repairs there should no major maintenance work be done on the exterior of the building for a period of forty to thirty years. "It is very possible," Wagner said
he may not have money enough
in the Office of Emergency Preparedness to do more than the exterior". Wagner said there was some danger involved falling plaster from the interior ceiling and walls and separate estimates should be prepared for these needed
interior repairs.

In letting the contract for the work Wagner said, "We call the work to be substantially completed in 85 calendar days.
That would make the completion date around February 15,
depending when we start advertising for bids coming Thursday. We have several contractors interested in bidding on this."

Variation In Storm Warning Part Of Camille Disaster

Sociologists at Mississippi State University have found that various variations in the content of storm predictions, together with a definite split and a gross underestimation of Hurricane Camille, led to death for some Gulf Coast residents last year.

The findings are in a report being distributed this week by the Social Science Research Center at MSU, where a team of sociologists spent more than a year studying the effects of U.S. Weather Service warnings prior to the August 17, 1969, disaster.

Camille killed at least 165 persons in the coastal area when it hit a storm shelter rather than a more suitable residence just off the St. Lucie River. At least 70 persons are still missing. The study was conducted by Dr. Kenneth P. Wilkinson and Dr. Peggy J. Ross. It was jointly funded by the university and the National Weather Service. A preliminary report was issued in August. A limited number of copies of the report are available.

The final report credits the Weather Service with adequately warning the population along the coast, but the team were at work on the storm Sunday to influence residents to either stay or flee.

Among the decisive factors was a faulty communication.

"There was no effective, single coordinating mechanism for informing the population of the danger and mobilizing them," the report stated.

"Although nearly everyone received the message that the storm was coming, there were great variations in the content of the messages received and in the amount of personal contact with which the messages were delivered."

For example, the sociologists found that some were confused by one-of-a-kind radio and TV stations which broadcast warnings for their own areas, rather than for the Mississippi coast.

Early morning newspapers also indicated the storm was heading for Florida.

In addition to the confusion of multiple, uncoordinated sources operating in the area, there was the problem of content of the official advisories and bulletins," Dr. Wilkinson wrote.

The report also said that warnings that the storm would hit the Mississippi coast were late in coming.

The MSU findings were based on interviews with 384 heads of households in a strip of coastline half a mile wide and 45 miles long, stretching from Biloxi to Pascagoula and containing 100,000 persons.

Prominent among the findings was that 107 of the 384 (28 per cent) did not evacuate their home despite urgent pleas to do so. About 65 per cent of those who stayed said the warnings were adequate.

"Perhaps many discounted the potential destructiveness of the tides on the basis of previous experience with tides of similar height, overlooking the fact that this time the tides could be driven by one of the strongest wind forces ever recorded during a hurricane."

This created a situation in which many people were "uncertain or unwilling to translate this awareness into a conception of personal danger commensurate with the facts."

The sociologists speculated that a new term may be needed to describe super-storms like Camille to separate them from other hurricanes. A third major factor was just what the storm was "spirit of defiance," which the MSU professors said is characteristic of a disaster culture.

"Examples of reckless challenge of the storm were rare, but there was extensive evidence that the population as a whole preferred not to evacuate." Many left the storm area against their will and as a last resort.

The sample in the study was mostly "an older, stable upper-middle-class population" with at least a high school education. The "stayers" tended to be the most experienced and best educated.

Among other factors causing residents to hesitate in leaving was an ill-defined fear of losing. A third of the whole sample were worried about their property.

Fearful among the elderly also contributed to the tendency for this group to stay. Forty-four of the 123 death certificates issued in Mississippi were for persons 65 or older.

The team found evidence that there were scattered "hurricane parties" and revelry. "There is, however, no evidence that this was a major factor influencing the protective behavior of the coastal population."

RE-ELECT LUGIS NECAISE AS TRUSTEE
DISTRICT 3,
HANCOCK COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD.

Here are good reasons why Mr. Necaise should be re-elected!

Mr. Necaise either made all motions, or seconded the motions, for all improvements at Lakeview, Galivin School, Pearlington and Hancock North Central. Without his insistence on motioning to build a High School, gym and football field at Galivin, same would possibly never have materialized.

In true sense of facts, Mr. Necaise has been the great FATHER OF ALL SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS IN THE HANCOCK COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT!

Mr. Necaise deserves all the help, support and credit, we, the people, can give in RE-ELECTING HIM ON NOVEMBER 3rd to continue his service for the benefit of the County School District.

Mr. Necaise has diligently fought for Progress, and promotion of better schools.

Mr. Necaise is a man of proven action since he had been on the School Board for the past 12 years, and because of his record for the betterment of educational condition for our young people, he deserves the support of the public in proving that we, the people, respect his sincerity and efforts in the great progress of the Hancock County School District.

By VOTING FOR LUGIS NECAISE ON NOVEMBER 3rd, we will prove that his tremendous efforts as a Member of the School Board are recognized and his long years of dedicated service are appreciated.

REMEMBER LUGIS NECAISE WHEN YOU GO TO THE POLLS ON NOVEMBER 3rd.

EXPERIENCE COUNTS! There is NO substitute that can compare with definite past actions and accomplishments!

VOTE LUGIS NECAISE!

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

City-County Library Writer

Historian and writer, E. S. Colling, has been selected by the City-County Public Library to prepare articles covering events occurring in earlier days along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. These articles will replace the feature FROM A to Z and carry the title COLLING'S CORNER, (Editor's note.)

LITTLE LAW, NO ORDER
To many young people today, for a constant diet of murder, robbery and crimes by tv, newspapers and magazines, life in the old days in the Pearl River country may seem stupid and unexciting, but to the folks who lived here then it must have been just the reverse. Those people didn't see violence second hand, on a screen or in a newspaper page; they lived it as part of their daily lives and either suffered directly from it or shared first-hand the plight of their neighbors.

Piracy was the order of the day in the early 1800's, and the Pearl River with its scores of hidden bayous and concealed coves was made to order as a nest for the freebooters of the sea. Those pirates who had swifter boats waylaid their heavy-laden prey in the Gulf waters along the coast and brought their loot up the Pearl for disposal at Pearlington or Gainesville; those with smaller craft darted out of hidden coves and captured merchantmen as they made their way down the river toward New Orleans or Mobile. One crewman said he had started from Gainesville for New Orleans ten times in the past year, and hadn't made it yet!

Topping all the pirates was a big, forceful character named Pierre Remaux, who was not French but Scottish. Born in Scotland to a good family, he came to Pearl River about 1800. Choosing piracy as the quickest means for getting rich, he soon assembled a big band of lawless men, established his headquarters and warehouse on Honey Island, across from Gainesville, and soon was plucking ships from the river and Gulf like ripe plums from a tree. He is said to have had several storage huts in hidden caves along the river. When Jackson's army marched through this country, it used the large fleet of boats Remaux had collected to transport its artillery and heavy equipment to New Orleans. Remaux himself volunteered with his band of freebooters to fight with Jackson, but just before the battle of Chalmette he decided he would make a bigger profit with the British, who he thought were sure to win the fight, so he deserted with his gang to the King's army and, justly enough, was killed in the battle. This must have meant rich pickings for the honest citizens of Gainesville from his warehouses.

But piracy was not the only form of profit for miscreants in those days. Bands of robbers swarmed the roads, holding up and robbing travelers of their money and the goods in their wagons. They stormed and captured the homes of settlers supposed to be well-to-do, taking or destroying their furnishings and clothing, and running off their slaves. A murderer named Murrell formed his own band of thugs and joined in the reign of terror.

funding given the project was not allocated until Fiscal '71. "This meant that in spite of our obtaining all the necessary easements and spoils areas, arranging for the purchase of lands for recreation areas and public facilities, nothing could be accomplished until next year's funding had been made."

"A loss like this could seriously affect the commercial fishermen operating out of Bayou Caddy who have long suffered with a lack of landing and catch handling facilities."

"My commission faced its responsibility and not only came up with the matching funds but also, by a series of maneuvering that still has several Washington folk among the ranks of the unbelievers, secured approval from the United States Congress and the Bureau of Budgets to advance the United States Corps of Engineers

$100,000 so that the task could be undertaken this year to relieve the hardships being experienced by the county's oyster and shrimp fleets

operating from out of the bayou."

"Of course this money will be returned to the port and harbor special county waterway development fund when it is repaid by the government in 1974."

"By the way, all of this money came from carefully allocated proceeds of the port and harbor commission's $3.6 million bond issue in 1968. We promised at that time that a portion of the money would be used to develop public waterways throughout the County of Hancock and this is the first move in that direction."

Dredge company superintendent Burkitt, on his fourth

trip to the area, said his crew

total now stands at 12 men but he hoped to bring this up to 16 with the engagement of local labor.

Working with the dredge are two tenders, the Jessie M and the Mary. Both are powered by the 671 GM diesel and double

as crew boats.

City-County Library Writer

Until 1811, the law in the land was when irate citizens

banded together and took matters into their own hands, but this enforcement was sporadic

and did not reach the top culprits or their chief aides. So in that year Gov. Clinburn sent

William Fluck to this country to appoint Justices of the Peace

in the principal settlements.

These J.P.'s were authorized to arrest and bring to trial anyone accused of a crime, by force if necessary. This improved conditions by ridding the country of scores of minor strong-arm men, though the leaders, such as Murrell, Reman and Dupre seem not to have suffered unduly.

Perhaps the worst of the gangsters was James Copeland,

who ran amuck in the Pearl

River country and in Alcorn

in the 40's and 50's. His career of crime, ending in an old-fashioned shootout, deserves

more attention and will be detailed in a future story.

This month marks an anniversary of great importance in the history of southern Mississippi, for on October 29, 1870,

the New Orleans, Mobile and Chattanooga Railroad began operations, ending the era of water transportation. This important event and its consequences will be reviewed in a future issue.

The color from any color-fast garment is safe to use on cotton, dacron and orlon. Try it on soiled collars and cuff lines. Mahatma's long grain Brown Rice has a nutty flavor and is rich in vitamin. For some 20 cents a box this rice can be used as a main dish with chunks of meat or chicken, or can be used as a stuffing for Cornish hens. For Western style Brown Rice to serve six people:

Ranch Style Brown Rice
1 can consomme or bouillon
4 slices diced bacon
1 tablespoon chopped or dehydrated parsley
1/4 cup chopped green onions
1/4 teaspoon marjoram
Or 10 drops hot sauce
3 cups water
1 cup Brown Rice

In a skillet or sauce pan fry bacon pieces until crisp. Remove bacon and pour off all but 1 tablespoon bacon drippings. Stir in all ingredients except rice and bring to a boil. Stir in rice, cover, lower heat to a simmer and cook until all the water is absorbed. This takes about 45 minutes to an hour. Before serving garnish with bacon bits and a sprig of parsley.

This goes well with sausage patties, baked sweet potatoes and cole slaw. No dessert needed. Simply pass fruit, nuts and mints.

The Bay High band went to Milne Stadium in Gulfport for a band competition. Bands from Mississippi, Louisiana, and Alabama attended. Bay High got a rating of 3 while their majorettes rated 2.

Warns of Narcotics Use

Two of the biggest narcotics dealers in the south were apprehended recently operating in Bay St. Louis, according to Sheriff Fred Curet, at a meeting of the Hancock Community Relations Council.

Sheriff Curet was one of several speakers at the meeting which was held Thursday night at St. Rose de Lima School.

Sheriff Curet warned members of the community that the narcotics problem is reaching serious proportions in this area and appealed especially to parents of the community to help local law enforcement officers in a campaign to arrest the further development of narcotics.

United Fund Organization Benefits Many Programs

Secretary of the United Fund organization in Hancock County is Mrs. C. R. Beyer who recently said: "We are told there are two kinds of people: Those who give and those who receive. However, I could add a third kind of person: the one who could give -- but does not."

Mrs. Beyer says a large percentage of our people fall in the class who could give and many do not because they are not familiar with the agencies being supported by the fund. She explains: There are three who say:

"What is the United Fund?"

"What is it all about?" do you know the United Fund entirely supports the retarded children's school? Do you know the boy and girl scout programs are supported by the fund? That Red Cross helped approximately thirty-five hundred Hancock County families following the Camille Disaster? That Catholic Charities, through their adoption program, has brought many wonderful babies into childless Hancock County homes, and is supporting a large number of our troubled children in foster homes. Do you know the fund finances the blood bank and the emergency relief fund has helped hundreds of persons with immediate assistance in time of need. Do you know the fund supports a summer camping program at Camp Onward on the beach in Bay St. Louis for underprivileged local children? That the mental health program is being expanded to cover a wide range of assistance in our mental health problems. That the Gulf Coast family counseling agency has a clinic every Wednesday at Hancock General Hospital?

These programs and others are all a part of Hancock County United Fund, and are worthy of your help. Please send contributions to the Hancock County United Fund, P.O. Box #142, Bay St. Louis, Miss. 39520. For information call 467-5358.

Episcopal General Convention

Continues Program Approval

The continuation of controversial program of grants to the poor had been approved by both the House of Deputies and the House of Bishops at the General Convention of the Episcopal Church meeting in Houston, Texas. Approval came after lengthy debate over "includes some 'helpful new controls'" in the opinion of spokesmen for the Mississippi delegation.

One of them, Tom Ward, Jr., an attorney from Meridian, commented that the controls were "not as strong as some of us would hope, but local participation in review of grants and local control are considerably strengthened."

In response to a question about how the controls compare with those of regular programs of the church, Ward commented, "These controls are even stronger than administrative procedures governing other church actions because it gives the bishop conditional veto over any proposed grants for his area. This is not true of regular programs of the Episcopal Church."

Other restrictions added to the General Convention Special Program included a provision giving a bishop 30 days to approve or disapprove a proposed grant after the full details are submitted to him. One major criticism of the program as it had existed for the last three years has been the short notice given local leadership that a particular local grant was even under consideration and the fact that the special national administrative staff had sole control over processing of grants regardless of local recommendations.

Another safeguard is that a majority vote of the entire executive council is required to override a bishop's veto. This means 26 votes will now be needed whereas formerly only a simple majority of those present was needed to approve funding of any project.

Sherwood W. Wise, another delegate and a Meridian attorney, said, "This new action is a vast improvement over the situation we have had since the last General Convention three years ago so far as this program of grants is concerned."

Wise added, "Personally, I would like to have had a little stronger local control after grants were made. Yet these new rules are so much stronger that I am pleased we got this much."

Restrictions preventing grants where violence has been, or becomes, involved were also spelled out, barring financing

Ladner Retires From Highway Department

David L. Ladner of Bay St. Louis, whose State Highway Department career spanned more than 38 years, retired October 28.

His career was spent mainly as a bridge tender and when retirement came he had been Head Bridge Tender on the Bay St. Louis Bridge many years.

Jim Thamou was Highway Commissioner in 1932 when Ladner began his employment with the Highway Department. He recalls that his first check was just eighty cents (80¢) and that he used to work 12 hours a day, seven days a week, on the old draw bridge.

"I have enjoyed every day of my time with the Highway Department," though "the office routine kind of got me, but I'm happy and grateful to everyone in the Highway Department for being so good to me."

Highway Commissioner W. R. Young, Byron, has taken David's office as the new director of the Highway Department. Mr. Young says one of our top public relations people is entitled to retire in very quiet standing." The Commissioner said, "We appreciate his faithfulness in discharging his duties while with the Highway Department these many years, and I hope both Mr. and Mrs. Ladner enjoy many years of retirement."

A native of Hancock County, Ladner has been married 28 years, and has four children, Donald and Ronald reside in Bay St. Louis; Mrs. Doris Miller now lives in Ocean Springs, and Gary is in the U.S. Navy. They have 11 grandchildren.

Awards Federal Grant For Coast Transportation

A Federal grant of $24,000 to improve public transportation service in the Gulfport-Biloxi area of the Mississippi Gulf Coast was announced today by Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe.

The grant, made by DOT's Urban Mass Transportation Administration, was awarded to the Mississippi Coast Transportation Authority, which took over responsibility for operating the area's bus system only last month.

The study is expected to provide an "immediate action plan," which will include changes in routes, service, schedules and fares and will establish a 5-year financial forecast in management and operation.

After the Gulfport-Biloxi area was devastated by Hurricane Camille in August 1969, the privately-owned bus system suffered major losses in ridership and went out of business a year later.

Responsibility for running the bus system was taken over by the Mississippi Coast Transportation Authority in September. Local governments are indirectly subsidizing the authority's operation only until this coming March. It is expected that by then, results from the study awarded today will pave the way for an improved and permanently financed mass transportation system.

The Federal grant is an outgrowth of a personal inspection in the Gulfport-Biloxi area in early May by Carlos C. Villarreal, Administrator of the Urban Mass Transportation Administration.

Mr. Villarreal has worked closely with Representative William Colmer and Senators John Stennis and James Eastland on mass transportation aid to the Gulf Coast area.

"Today's grant is a good example of the Federal Government's interest in improving mass transit in the small cities as well as in the large urban areas," Villarreal said following a meeting with Representative Colmer.

Allocates Funds

Congressman William Colmer's office announced Monday that the Office of Education has approved a reservation of funds in the amount of $3,202 to the Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal Separate School District. The funds will be used to purchase physical education equipment for Bay Senior High School.

NEVER AS FRIENDLY as this on stage are these members of the cast of WAIT UNTIL DARK, scheduled to open next week at the Little Theatre. Shown above are Glenn Furr, Karen Smith, Kathy Cox, Floyd Wiltz (standing), and Tom Hartnett (seated). The suspenseful drama is being directed by Bert Barrett and produced by Mary Carter. ### Will Issue Housing Demand Analysis

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development will shortly issue an 18-page analysis of the demand for housing in the Mississippi Gulf Coast area for the two years ending May 1, 1972.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast housing market analysis, completed by the Federal Housing Administration's Economic and Market Analysis Division, was announced today by Assistant Secretary-Commissioner Eugene A. Guldridge. The study is based on data and judgments of local economic, demographic, and housing factors as of May 1, 1972.

The report suggests over 11,000 houses and apartments are needed for lower income families and elderly people for certain housing could be built with assistance through subsidy programs administered by the Federal Housing Administration.

The report says that within the past year, two major factors have put unusual pressure on the housing market in the Mississippi Gulf Coast Area. In August 1969, Hurricane Camille struck the three-county area causing loss of life and substantial destruction of homes, offices or business, and employment centers. More recently, major impacts to the future economic development of the area has come from announced expansion of existing firms and the anticipated openings of new employment centers in the area.

Tables included in the report will show the expected yearly demand by price groups for single-family houses and by monthly rents for additional multi-family units of different sizes, and the estimated potential for federally subsidized sales and rental units.

Copies of the analysis, when available, and further information may be obtained from Buford Verger, Director, Federal Housing Administration, 501 N. Lamar St., Jackson, Mississippi 39201.

Seminary Holds "Live-Ins"

Under the direction of the Vocation Department, a series of Seminary "Live-Ins" was instituted this year at Divine Word Seminary of St. Augustine.

To date, 55 boys have participated in the program of talks, movies, recreation and liturgy under the direction of Rev. William J. Kelley, S.V.D., Vocation Director. He is being assisted by Novices Reggie Powe, Bill Feldner, Sergio Le Blanc, and Gary Cramen.

The purpose of the "Live-In" is to offer young boys the opportunity to associate with seminarians and seminary life. Some have come from as far away as Hammond and Franklin, La., to make the weekends. The response has been exceptionally well, and a week-long "Live-In" is planned for a large group in June.

Father Kelley appeared on WLOX-TV this past week outlining his duties as a recruiter.

for the seminary and pointed out the usefulness of the program as the "Live-In."

The next weekend the V and HI students will be at Newellton for Oct. 31.

ED HEADS GO IN for a score when they played the Hancock All-Stars in an exhibition game last Wednesday night. The Red Hounds defeated the All-Stars.

Pearl River Wildcats suffer Second Defeat

After a scoreless first half, Copiah-Lincoln Wolves got the right scoring combination and dealt the Pearl River Junior College Wildcats second defeat of the season Saturday night in Wesson.

The Wildcats, twice within field position, failed to hit pay dirt on either of the opportunities. The Co-Lin defense, who allowed only 7 points in their three games prior to their meeting with the Wildcats, put their awesome defense to good use in stopping Cats who had been averaging 20-plus points per game.

On the second play of the game the Wolves fumbled on their own 27 yard line and the Wildcats had their first opportunity to score. A fumble by the Cats, the first of seven, put them to the drive and signaled the outcome of the game. The Wolves were first to ink up a score on their side.

N.C. Selects

Homecoming

Hancock North Central High School has selected its Homecoming Court. Homecoming Queen is Miss Melinda Lentant, escorted by Larry Lind. Senior Maids are: Miss Donette Miller escorted by Gale Hart; Miss Christine Haynes escorted by J. W. Rawls. Junior Maid is Miss Kathy Friddle escorted by O'Neill Cuevas. Sophomore Maid is Miss Susan also escorted by Mitchell Ward. Freshman Maid is Miss Linda Lee escorted by Donald Her.

The Queen and Maids were nominated by the H.N.C. Varsity Football Team. Each individual class elected its Maids the Queen.

The Homecoming Court will be wearing a rainbow of pastel formal gowns.

Homecoming Activities will be held October 30, at 7:00 p.m. in the Hawk Stadium. The Hawks will be playing Pearl River Central.

New Auto Dealer

Hancock County

Hancock County has a new car dealership, Rusty Smith Motors, Inc., located on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis. The service department is now open for new and used car sales. The service department is under renovation and will open soon.

The owner, Rusty Smith also is a Ford-Lincoln-Mercury dealer in Picayune, Mississippi.

J. "Bill" Stewart, manager of Smith's Motors said, he will offer the people in this honest, courteous and intelligent service. Mr. Smith emphasized tremendous faith with his business in Picayune, he wants to do the best thing here."

Stewart and his wife expect to live here in the near future.

LEGISLATORS AT OLE MISS - Rep. George Payne Caspar (center) of Tallahatchie and Alcorn Counties was among legislators and elected state officials attending Legislative Day at the University of Mississippi. Among students welcoming Rep. Caspar were (from left) Sandra Harmon, Jackson, AWS president; Beth Mortayer, Bay St. Louis; Cathy Criss, Greenwood; and Brad Jamison, Cleveland.

THIS PICTURE SHOWS the work being done on the new city park on Washington Street between Old Spanish Trail and St. Francis Street. City equipment and city workmen are being used to bring the land to a useable condition. Money for the project is furnished 75% by the U.S. Government's Interim Assistance Program and 25% by the City of Bay St. Louis. Felix Seeger, Superintendent of Public Grounds for the City, is supervising the land preparation.

FINAL REPORT - Mississippi State University sociologist Peggy J. Ross looks over a copy of the final report on a study of the effectiveness of warnings issued before Hurricane Camille struck the Gulf Coast in August of last year. Mrs. Ross is co-author of the document with Dr. Kenneth P. Williamson. A limited number of copies of the report are available through the MSU Social Sciences Research Center. (MSU Photo by Jerry Moulder)

A DRAWING will be held to give away the rifle held by Frank Diaz. Standing to the left is Jim B. Hollingsworth. Both men are members of the Bay St. Louis Jaycees who are sponsoring the project. Donations will go for the benefit of Mental Health and Mentally Retarded children in Hancock County. According to Jaycees president, Bobby Bondin, J. L. Gonzales, Teddy Eljio, Roger Davis and Jim Pratt have also worked very hard on this project.

Poplarville Shuts Out Bay High Tigers 15-0

The Poplarville Hornets buzzed into town Friday night to spoil Bay Hi's homecoming with a 15-0 route of the Tigers. A capacity crowd watched the Tigers penetrate within the Hornet ten twice but fail to score.

The Tigers were hampered by a case of the butter fingers as Blaino passed full from the hands of Tiger receivers throughout the game.

The Tiger defense, led by back Randy Sharita and tackle Stan Poinsett, was staunch, but not tough enough, as the powerful Hornet fullback Edward Gordon rolled for touch-down runs of nine and fifty-five yards. Total in the third period, Poplarville's James Bilbo rounded out the scoring with a 30-yard field goal.

came saw the loss of key lineman Wes McFarland, who cracked a collar bone. For the Tigers, Steve Altair, Gary Blaino, Chuck Schanno, Randy Sharita and Wes McFarland turned in outstanding efforts in a losing cause.

The Rating of OLG were down this past Sunday afternoon in Gulfport, by St. John's.

An early runaway game for St. John's turned into a strong competition on the part of both teams, in the second half.

Goals pursued by St. John's defense, kept the Bear offense in trouble, until late in the 3rd quarter, when QB Bobby Alton sealed it over for OLG's only score.

This coming Sunday, the Bears go to Long Beach to play the St. Thomas Tigers. The Bear coaches expect a close OLG at 1:00 p.m.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

On the Mississippi Gulf Coast at this time of the year our sportsmen have two objectives, they can fish or hunt. Most of them do both. With the rabbit and squirrel season open and the dove season about to open they can pick their choice of what they want to hunt.

Trolling for both speckle trout, reds and bass has started. This time of the year is best for all kinds of fishing. The weather and water is colder which makes the fish hit harder and take to deeper water. Believe it or not on warm days during the winter months bass are caught on fly rods and by casting. They will hit on the surface.

A most unbelievable, in certain places like upper Campbell's Bayou where it runs into Pearl River, flounders are caught in November and December by those with nerve enough to face the elements.

For those new to this section of the state there are plenty of fishing camps where skiffs, bait launching facilities are available. Among them are La France's Camp down at Ansdell; Roy Baxter's Marina at Bearington; Bordages Camp on Bayou Caddy operated by the Bordages brothers, Lionel and Ray; Alfred Cosperich's Ship Yard on Jourdan River, Bayou LaCroix Marina and John Ploue's camp which is in the building stage on Watt's Bayou; Kelly's Camp on Mulatto Bayou. There is both fresh and salt water fishing in areas near these camps.

Have had a lot of requests as to why the dam over the mouth of Bayou Lacent has been rebuilt making it impossible to get into the two beautiful new lakes and Bayou Lacent proper. Bayou Lacent has been one of the best fishing places in this section for years. It is to Jourdan River near the new I-10 bridges. It has been fished by us old timers for years. Would like for someone to tell us why the dam is there.

Was glad to learn that Chas. May is still in circulation and hunting. Be up that-a-way soon, Charley.

Was a pleasure having coffee with Mr. and Mrs. Oris Ladner near Necise Crossing. They have two lakes in which perch and bass are caught.

Met some fishermen at Neil's Hide-away on Harbor Drive. It is a nice place to quench that thirst and get a few pointers on how and where to catch fish.

James Redford does a good job of painting and catching fish. When not working you can find him with a fishing pole in his hand instead of a paint brush.

August Rauxet and Jack Rutledge caught about 300 pounds of speckles out in the last, see the upcoming issue of Mississippi Game and Fish magazine.

Archery season will be split into three parts this year. The first season opens October 11. However, it opens again from October 17 through October 31 and again November 2 through November 19. Hunters will be allowed one deer per season, although only two may be uniformed deer.

Quail season opens December 5 and ends February 28 with a daily bag limit of 12 and possession limit of 24.

Other seasons include: upland, December 12 through February 14; Wilson's Snipe, same date as woodcock; rails, Sora and Virginia, King and Clapper, October 31 through January 8; gallinule, October 31 through January 6; mourning dove (first season until September 27), November 7 through November 29 and December 23 through January 15; duck, November 14 through November 28 and December 19 through January 17; geese, coot and merganser, same as duck.

Cut out the above and keep for future reference.

Colonel Leonard C. New, chief of the enforcement division of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, today announced the conviction of two men charged with illegal possession of undersized alligators and hunting alligators in a closed season.

It is also illegal to hunt or kill alligators in Mississippi.

Most anytime is time to catch catfish. Two state records for two different species have been established according to Game and Fish Commission fisheries chief Barry Freeman. One weighed 59 pounds and the other 14 lbs. They were caught on hook and line. There are plenty cat fish hereabout. A trout or set line will put a lot of fish on the table. Sportsmen are urged to register all big fish with the Game and Fish Commission to qualify as a state record. The fish must be caught in a sporting manner with sport fishing equipment. Weigh the fish as soon as possible and make sure winches are on hand.

Someone said why tell your troubles to others. Most of them don't care and the rest are glad of it.

Joe Kern and Mitch Mitchell as guests of Mr. Kimbrough made a dove hunt at Greenville, Miss., during the first part of the season. There were 200 hunters in the field and they each killed the limit. Practically I have seen Joe in a long time. Joe also loves to fish.

Robert E. Roigeltor with operation Upton, Project Administration, enjoys fishing. Rob doesn't care what kind of fishing it is.

Polly Mamrathia and Miss Amelin Seaford are fishing buddies. They have been catching trout and crappie. Fish each Tuesday when possible.

Do you remember when you could buy a sixen of beer for 10¢ and eat all you could for nothing. That was called a free lunch. Ask any old timer about this.

Gene Leader is busy running his marina on Bayou LaCroix. He still gets in a little fishing.

Plenty of speckles are being caught out at the marshes. They are hitting live bait, shad, rigs and plugs. They are being caught most anywhere. Flounders are also being gotten in most streams, Heron Bay and Pearl River, especially.

Remember, respect those who are fishing in skiff and flat boats. We can't all own speed boats. Slow down when passing them. Be a real sport.
